Jayoti Vidyapeeth Women's University provides a platform to reflect the aspirations and demands of the student community through Student Council "Jayoti Sangh".

Jayoti Sangh:

The Jayoti Sangh is a volunteer set-up of students and acts as a bridge between the University Administration and student community. The purpose of the student council is to give students an opportunity to develop leadership by organizing and carrying out University activities.

A Student council serves as the voice for an entire student community and actively works with teachers and University Management to promote a better learning environment.

Jayoti Sangh always joins hands with faculty members, students, and University management to ensure overall development of the students, community, and the University. The Sangh acts as a representative body which is for the students and by the student. The Sangh enables and inspires students to be self dependent and empowers them in gaining leadership qualities and execution skills. Every year the Sangh is constituted in a democratic way through election. The Sangh has representatives of each discipline, each programme, and each batch to serve the student community. It helps students to share ideas, interests, and concerns about academic decisions and other matters.
